

Band, Chorus Combine In Christmas Concert

The Greenbelt Community Band and the Greenbelt High School Madrigal Chorus will present their annual Christmas Concert on Monday evening, December 18 in the Center School Auditorium at 8 o'clock. The public is invited. The following program will be presented:

"Santa Claus is Coming to Town", "Princess of India", "The Shrine of St. Cecilia" by the Band. "Jesu Guard and Guide Thy Members", "O Holy Night" featuring Clara Arroyo accompanied by the Chorus. "Ave Maria" and "Shepherd's Christmas Story" by the Chorus with solo parts by Ruth Rhodes, George Timmerman and Jack Darling.

The Band will present Victor Herbert favorites and "Twas the Night Before Christmas". Rev. Eric T. Braund will be the narrator for this selection.

Following intermission the Band will present "Yuletide Echoes" and "White Christmas" followed by "The Legend", "Sleep of the Child Jesus" and "Stars Lead Us Ever On" featuring Joan Mandell and the Madrigal Chorus. The Band and Chorus will present "Hallelujah Chorus" as a combined number. The closing selections "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer" featuring Robert Eubanks, assistant director, and "Sleigh Ride" will be presented by the Band.

The Chorus is under the direction of Miss Ellen J. Beckman; the Band is directed by Dana Garret, and the Chorus accompanist is Janice Anzulovic.

City's Tide of Toys Helped By Groups

The American Legion's Tide of Toys campaign in Greenbelt is Greenbelt is "coming along very well," according to Pop Bell, chairman of the drive. Several community organizations have already made plans to assist the drive, among them the Drop-Inn, whose membership contribution plan is featured elsewhere in this week's Cooperator.

Sam Fox, director of the city recreation department, has arranged for the topical movie "Miracle on 34th St." to be shown at the Greenbelt theater, admission to be a contribution of a toy for the campaign. The picture will be shown on Wednesday, December 27, at 2 p.m.

The basketball games have brought out "a nice bunch to start with," according to Pop, who expressed his thanks to those who helped out Saturday night.

Under the direction of Mrs. Sam Schwimmer, members of the Jewish Community Center will contribute to the drive by leaving toys at the Legion home in the evening, or at the firehouse during the day.

All residents of Greenbelt are asked to get out the unused toys around the house, in good condition for some other child to enjoy them, and contribute them to the drive. In last year's campaign Greenbelt collected around 3600 toys, and that mark is expected to be topped this year. For further information, call Pop Bell at 4486.

Mac Reports On City Party Plans

City employees are preparing for their annual Christmas party, reports City Manager Charles McDonald.

George Panagoulis, director of public safety, is party chairman for this year. The party will be held in the firemen's quarters in the basement of the police station.

Santa, Rudolf Coming To Child Care Center

Santa Claus and "Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer" will reign supreme at a gala Christmas Open House at the Greenbelt Child Care Center, 14 Parkway, this Friday evening from 7 to 8:30. Santa is eager to meet and greet the local 2- to 10-year olds, and their Moms or Dads. He knows all will be enchanted by the lovely children's world created here for the benefit of children requiring day care away from their homes, when both parents are employed, or in other situations. Of course, Santa will have a sweet little surprise for each child.

Mrs. Eva Benson, director, and her staff of 6 teachers have been working busily on Yuletide decorations, transforming the quarters into a veritable Christmas Fairland. Mrs. Benson said, "We particularly hope that all mothers considering accepting employment will avail themselves of this opportunity to get acquainted with the Child Care Center, and learn what a world of undreamed-of joys are opened up here for a child's progress and health".

Youth Center Helps Local Toy Campaign

Greenbelt's teen-agers voted to make their Drop-Inn membership cards invalid for admittance to the Youth Center this weekend, unless the card is accompanied by a toy in support of the Toys for Tots Campaign being sponsored by the Greenbelt American Legion. The teen-agers are cleaning out their brothers' and sisters' toy chests in hopes of salvaging the toys which are in good condition and are not used by the children, so that other children may enjoy them. This drive for toys will be in effect at the Youth Center Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights of this week, December 15, 16, and 17.

Majorrettes, Loki Star At Md. U. Bowl

The Greenbelt Majorettes occupied a very prominent spot in the pre-game activities for the President's Bowl game on Saturday at the U. of Md. Bowl. They were accompanied by the Post 136 American Legion color guard, and by Loki, the celebrated war dog.

"Pop" Bell, regular handler of this nationally-known dog, arranged the trip for those from Greenbelt who took part. The local legion wishes to thank all those who took part on behalf of Post 136.

St. Hugh's Children Hold Christmas Party

Parents of St. Hugh's school children will be guests at the annual Christmas party, to be held on Sunday, December 17, at 3 p.m. in the school.

Children of all grades will participate in a program of songs and dances and short plays. The program will be followed by the arrival of Santa Claus. Refreshments will be served to the parents, and a movie to the children.

GIVE CANTATA SUNDAY

The Community Church's annual Christmas cantata will be given Sunday night at 8 p.m. in the church. The Senior and Cloister choirs will sing "Chimes of the Christmas Night," by Holton.

The Cooperator this year is making space available in its Christmas issue to all those readers who wish to extend Season's Greetings to their friends and neighbors. The charge is $1. Contact the Cooperator, 3131, or Doris A. Mednick, 3518, evenings.

High School Highlites

By Peggy Markfield

Greenbelt high school seniors were guests of the University of Maryland at the football game between Maryland and VPI on December 2 at the new University of Maryland stadium. They were also treated to luncheon and a tour of the university grounds. This preview of college life was also shared by senior class students from other high schools in Maryland.

The senior class play, "Cheaper by the Dozen," presented November 30 and December 1, was unanimously agreed to be the best play presented by any senior class. The net receipts of $350. was also the largest amount of money ever realized by a senior class play.

The senior class dance, or Christmas Ball as it is commonly known, will be held on December 22 in the community building auditorium. Junior class students will be guests of the seniors. Dancing will be from 9 to 12 to the music of Walter Hubbell's orchestra. Clarence Chapman is senior class sponsor for the dance.

The Madrigal Chorus, a selected group of 25 mixed voices from the high school, sang on Bill Herson's program over Radio Station WRC on December 4. The chorus is under the direction of faculty member Ellen Beckman.

The high school Christmas assembly will be held this Friday morning will feature the singing of the Madrigal Chorus.

The Greenbelt Band and Madrigal Chorus will present a program of Christmas music on December 18 at 8 p.m. in the community building auditorium. The public is cordially invited to attend.

GIGANTIC MOVIE FOR KIDS

Owing to the very heavy schedule of Christmas activities in the local schools all next week, the gigantic movie show for the children of Greenbelt to help the Tide of Toys for Tots will be held on Wednesday, December 27, starting at 2 o'clock. Admission will be a toy or several toys. The youngsters may have more toys to send the war-stricken children after Christmas than before.

WOMAN'S CLUB PARTY

Tonight, at 8:15 p.m. the Woman's Club of Greenbelt will hold its annual Christmas party at the Center School. Each member will bring a gift for a hospitalized veteran. These gifts will be collected and delivered to the veterans Christmas day. Small gifts will be exchanged among the members of the Club. Mrs. Freeland Ramsdell is chairman of arrangements for the party.

KAN DU DANCE

The Kan Du Club's final dance of the year will be a Holiday Hop to be held Saturday, December 16, in the Center school auditorium.

The program has been planned by Mrs. Jack Gale. Everyone is invited to bring friends and join in the fun.

Council Rescues Rescue Squad, Votes $1200 For Service To City

By I. J. PARKER

The city council voted to pay $1200 to the Greenbelt Rescue Squad for services rendered to the city in the past year. Preparation for emergencies in connection with civil defense needs was stressed by council members as the primary reason for the appropriation. Marshall Zoellner, president of the rescue squad, stated that the money would probably take care of all the immediate financial needs of the squad.

Report Chickenpox Warns McDonald

According to City Manager C. T. McDonald, a number of cases of chicken pox have been reported in the community. Mr. McDonald states that apparently a still larger number of cases have not been reported to the public health department.

City ordinance requires all cases of contagious diseases to be reported to the health department. Upon recovery from any contagious disease, a certificate from the health department is required before a child is permitted to return to school. Considerable delay and confusion may be avoided, if parents will notify the public health department at the outbreak of any contagious disease within their family.

Nursery School Plans Christmas Party Fri.

The Greenbelt Cooperative Nursery School will hold its annual Christmas issue to all those 15, in the nursery school at 14-D Parkway.

All nursery school parents are invited to attend, and a special welcome is extended to all parents interested in nursery school work.

Library Plans Holiday, Has Christmas Display

The Greenbelt Public Library will be closed from December 22 until January 2. So get your books for Christmas vacation reading now, and take advantage of the extended time limit. No books will be due during this period. However, readers are advised to check the date-due cards in the back of their books in order to get in overdue books before the holidays begin.

The library's Christmas display is now on view at the center school. The stockings are hung by the chimney with care and St. Nicholas is really there! The Christmas tree has been trimmed, the stockings filled, the toys and presents piled around, and a jolly Santa stands by the fireplace surveying his handiwork. The display will be on exhibit until December 22.

North End PTA Hears Asst. County Supt.

The North End P.T.A. held its monthly meeting Tuesday in the school auditorium. William Schmidt, assistant county superintendent of schools, spoke on the organization of the school system within the county. After his discussion the meeting was thrown open to questions from the floor. Refreshments were served by the room mothers.

WCFM MON. DEC. 18
7:45 p.m.—Christmas Music

The vote to allot funds to the rescue squad culminated a two-meeting discussion of the rights of council to determine for itself what services are needed by the city. Mayor Elizabeth Harrington stated last Monday, "Elected officials know what the needs and services of a community are more than PHA". Referring to Public Housing Administration's practice of deciding what services are needed by the city, the mayor remarked, "It is not proper for a municipal government to operate that way".

Most council members felt, however, that PHA would not seriously contest the council's decision to rescue the rescue squad, in view of the preparations underway nationally for civil defense. The importance of a rescue squad and its equipment was emphasized. Some council members stated they were willing to curtail certain other services for "what is needed more".

Mac On Defense

City Manager Charles T. McDonald presented a report on Civil Defense in Greenbelt. McDonald, local director of civil defense, announced the appointment of George Panagoulis as Chief Deputy Director in charge of police, fire service and warden services. Copies of the Federal blue book "United States Civil Defense" are available for distribution to all section leaders, McDonald stated.

(Following the meeting, Isadore Parker, Cooperator reporter, was appointed deputy director in charge of publicity for civil defense.)

That Tax Again

Preparation of an ordinance to tax the tangible personal property of firms, businesses and professions in Greenbelt was begun by the council and City Solicitor Ralph Powers. The ordinance includes, for the first time, personal property owned by doctors, dentists, and lawyers; and perhaps several repair services operating in the community. Only that property now assessed by the county will be taxed. The ordinance will be considered at the next regular meeting, January 8, 1951.

Adjournment of the final meeting of the city council for the year 1950 was celebrated by cokes "on the house".

Rabbi Sandhaus Named Natl. JWV Chaplain

Rabbi Mooris Sandhaus, Greenbelt, is in the limelight again with his appointment as national chaplain of the Jewish War Veterans Association of the United States by National Commander Henry Albert of New York.

This position was previously held by such prominent persons as Judah Naditch, Rabbi of one of the largest synagogues in New England, and Aryeh Lev, director of religious activities of the National Jewish Welfare Board.

Rabbi Sandhaus already holds several important posts in other organizations, including that of president of the Washington Military Chaplains Association and national vice-president of the Jewish Chaplains Association.

Vol. 15 Thursday, December 14, 1950 No. 17

Bravo

The city council took a courageous stand last Monday when it appropriated $1200 to the rescue squad for services rendered to the city. In the face of an informal statement by Community Manager Walter Simon that PHA would look with disfavor on the city's supplying a service not contracted for, the council deemed the appropriation just and necessary.

Under ordinary circumstances, arguments for and against the payment would both have real merit. At present, however, the necessity of maintaining an ambulance service has become dramatically apparent. Communities throughout the nation in this time of emergency are taking inventory of their equipment and resources in preparation for civil defense. Ambulances, lifesaving equipment, and any established groups properly trained in rescue work are prize assets.

In the preparation of a budget for anticipated expenditures, it is not always possible to foretell what services will be essential. Changing conditions create new needs and place importance on different services. Such a situation has taken place in Greenbelt.

We are fortunate in having a council that is alert to the problems that confront us, and vigilant in its protection of the community welfare.

Christmas Greetings

The Cooperator is setting a precedent this year by making space available for personal season's greetings in its Christmas issue. This is not only an opportunity to extend greetings in the true holiday tradition; it will also help make it possible for us to bring you a larger paper, with more features and interesting stories than would ordinarily be possible with our space limitations.

An unfortunate series of incidents in recent months has made it increasingly difficult for the Cooperator staff to put out a paper. To begin with, there is the perennial need for more staff members, so that there can be a more complete coverage of local news. There is also a crying need for more equipment particularly typewriters. Space limitations have made it impossible to print as much as we would like. And time limitations imposed on a harried staff have made it difficult to use a maximum of discretion in selecting material to print. Lastly, financial conditions have not been conducive to a state of health and well-being for our local newspaper.

The Cooperator is in a state of crisis at the present time. Support from our many readers in this direction will help us avert it.

Please Add Another Person To Your Christmas List

Christmas is the day when giving counts. But after Christmas there are 364 days when your gift through the Community Chest will carry the spirit of Christmas sharing to many people.

Perhaps no one has yet asked you to give—or perhaps you want to give more.

Please send your gift, using the coupon below. Checks should be made payable to the Community Chest Federation. Or, if you prefer, call METROPOLITAN 6262 and a volunteer worker will come to receive your gift at your convenience. Thank you very much.

Far-away places: Pancho Scanlon and his boss, Harry Johnson, both of the Dept of Agriculture, are here from Mexico City on a business trip. Mr. Scanlon is the brother of Mrs. Thomas J. Callanan, 2-C Laurel Hill. He brought with him as gifts to his two nephews, a couple of leather holsters, Mexican style. Mr. Scanlon and Mr. Johnson are flying back this week. Happy Landing!

Diane Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Smith, 51-L Ridge, was four years old on Friday, December 8, but celebrated her birthday on Sunday, December 10. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Smith of Cumberland, Maryland, were here for the party.

Stephen Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Cunningham, 2-H Laurel Hill, celebrated his eighth birthday on Saturday, December 9 with refreshments, followed by a trip to the movies, for his guests.

Some fine local talent was displayed by Mrs. Irving Gerring, 36-N Ridge, and Jerry Pines, 13-D Hillside, at the fourth annual dance of the J.C.C. at the Center auditorium on Saturday evening, December 9.

A birthday party will be given for George West, 1-B Ridge, by his wife, Betty, on Saturday, December 23.

Faye Friedman, 2-L Plateau Place, had as a week-end guest her fiancé, Charles Messner, formerly a science teacher at Greenbelt High, now an instructor at New York University.

On Sunday, December 3, the Peter G. Evanowskys, 38-B Ridge, were presented with a 9½ lb. boy! The proud parents have two other children, a boy and a girl.

A pre-Christmas dinner was held on Sunday, December 10, by Mr. and Mrs. Leon G. Benefiel, 60-B Crescent. Besides the family, among those present were Martha Agston, who is soon returning to her home in Little Rock, Arkansas; Carol Fredin, and Sumner Craiglin, whose mother, Mrs. Paul Hawk, now resides in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Freda, 24-G Ridge, have as their guests Mr. Freda's sister, Mrs. J. Vitelli of New York, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. E. Fisheno. Mrs. Vitelli is public relations officer for the N. Y. Telephone Co. She has just completed 30 years service with them and was rewarded with a trip to Washington.

Marsha Ann Hurd arrived in Pasadena, Texas November 25. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hurd, Jr. are the happy parents. Mrs. Hurd was the former Patricia Featherby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Featherby, 6-A Parkway.

Dan Lyons, 12-J Ridge, won the novice foil's championship of the Washington Fencers Club in a tournament at the YMCA.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Evans and children Donna Jean, 6 years, and Roger, age 10, were called to participate in the "Strike It Rich" radio program in New York on December 8. This was the result of a letter sent in by Mrs. Evans, saying that Donna Jean had just been released from a 32-day stay at the hospital, and that the family would like to strike it rich to take care of doctor bills. And sure enough, the Evans won $350. Mrs. Evans is grateful to the Palmolive-Peet Co. for this opportunity, and also for the prayers and help of everyone in Greenbelt. Donna Jean will soon undergo a serious eye operation, and we all wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Albert Sutton, 1-E Plateau Place, was the lucky winner of the pitcher and tumbler set raffled at the Bazaar held by the JCC.

Mrs. Elizabeth Day has just returned from Youngstown, Ohio where she attended the funeral of her father, Mr. Henry J. Kossler.

Cub Scout Pack 229 Features Indian lore

Indian lore and handicraft, the Cub project of the month, were featured at the meeting of Cub Scout Pack 229 held in the Community Building on November 30. Among the exhibits were Indian head-dresses, a tomahawk, and a totem figure. The subject of Indian lore was represented by a medicine dance and a rain-maker dance. Also presented was a scene depicting an attack on a covered wagon.

It was announced at the meeting that the Pack had received the Commissioner's award for its showing at the inspection in October. The award had been presented to Mrs. H. Atherholt, den mother of den 4, on behalf of the pack, while she was enrolled in a recently completed course for den mothers given at the University of Maryland.

Cubmaster Fred Birdseye made a brief announcement concerning the Christmas party for Pack 229, which will be held on December 21. As at last year's party, refreshments will be served and each Cub Scout will receive a gift. Others on the committee with Mr. Birdseye are I. F. Rosencrantz, S. Stepura and B. Trattler.

Awards were presented to the following boys: Joel Birdseye and John Murray, graduation certificates. David Flynn and John Monroney received the gold arrow for bear. Richard Ringel received a bear badge. Jim Gobel a gold arrow and Stanley Stepura a silver arrow for wolf. Ronald Atherholt and Hal Lieberman each received the wolf badge.

New bobcats welcomed into the pack are Charles Benson, Jr., Dickie Bowman, Robert Dolgoff and Tommy Green.

In a brief talk W. Hayward Hunt, neighborhood Commissioner for Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts announced that there will be a series of meetings beginning in the near future, to engender greater community-wide interest in scouting activities.

Co-op Commentary

The Canadian Co-op Christmas trees mentioned in this column last week have arrived at the Variety Store. All the bundles opened so far indicate that they are the best trees we have ever had.

It is apparent that each tree has been carefully selected. It just goes to show that it pays to have the producer interested in the ultimate consumer.

Just as in the case of the Co-op Motor Oil and the Rockingham Beltsville Turkeys, it pays to have products "Co-op all the way."

During the past week one of the large windows in the Supermarket was replaced. It had been cracked during the storm Thanksgiving weekend. The damage was covered by insurance, of course.

Moving a sheet of plate glass 13 or 14 feet high is a ticklish job, and there was a noticeable breeze blowing the day the job was done. Eight or ten experienced men were on hand, however, and after an anxious half-hour or so of chasing small children back to a safe distance, the job was completed in good order.

Greenbelt Center last Friday evening and Saturday. By Saturday afternoon it was estimated that almost every child in Greenbelt of suitable age had been in to see Santa's trailer, and several hundred from the surrounding countryside had come in as well.

Santa Claus in Greenbelt is a community tradition. The Co-op and the Community owe thanks to Allen Morrison for the time and effort he contributes each year to this service.

So many commodities are becoming scarce, or increasing in cost, that it's hard to keep up with all. Shoes, however, are an important item for all members of the family and the outlook is for definitely higher prices and increasingly tight supply next year.

Our Shoe store has absorbed the last two wholesale cost increases with little or no change in our retail prices. But the substantial cost advances scheduled for the first of the year will require corresponding increases in the prices you pay.

TIM EVANS APPEARS IN GWU PRODUCTION

A resident of Greenbelt will appear as the Dinosaur in The George Washington University Players' production of Thornton Wilder's "The Skin of Our Teeth".

He is Tim Evans, 21, son of Mrs. Helen Ewing Evans, 1-C Gardenway. Tim is also one of 30 students elected to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities", for 1950-51. A graduate of Greenbelt High School, he was active in the drama group of that school. A senior at the University, he is majoring in creative art.

He is editor-in-chief of the 1951

yearbook, "The Cherry Tree"; a member of Pi Delta Epsilon; Omicron Delta Kappa honorary; Alpha Theta Nu, scholarship-holders honorary; the Art Club; the University Hatchet (weekly paper); Student Council Elections Committee; May Day Committee; and was in charge of decorations for the 1949 Homecoming ceremonies. He is also a staff artist for the University Players.

Students are selected for "Who's Who" on the basis of: excellence and sincerity in scholarship, leadership and participation in extra-curricular and academic activities, citizenship and service to the school, and promise of future usefulness to business and society.

Bowling Headlines

By Stan Huff

With the completion of the 7th week of bowling in the G.A.C. Men's League, Geo. Bauer's Credit Union team continued to hold first place with a high 16-won, 5-lost record. Geo. Dickey's 8-Ballers met their 2-game defeat at the hands of the Credit Union team which resulted in the 8-Ballers remaining in 6th place. Alex Knott's Lucky-5 suffered a 2-game loss through the efforts of Angelo Campo's Bluedevils. However, the Lucky-5 managed to cling to the unchallenged 2nd place position and gave the Bluedevils a jump from previous 9th place to 5th. The Cliffdwellers jumped to 3rd place after defeating J. Paul Williams'

Rescue Squad 2 games, the 2nd game being won by a close 510-508 set. The Rescue Squad maintained 4th position in the league for the 2nd straight week. Frank Bauer's Bums took 1 game from Leo Bass's Misfits and came out with an unrolled tie game which will decide the positions of the two teams on the roll-off at the next bowling session. If the Bums win the roll-off, they will place high 3rd in the league, and if the Misfits win, they will move into high 7th place from last week's previous 8th. Cliff Young's Comets remained in 7th place this week after suffering a 2-game defeat from Tom Shipp's Northend team who continue to hold last position in the league.
